The Devonshire Hotel is a beautiful building with an abundance of charm and character. Unfortunately, no one knows what stood on this site before the construction of the coaching inn in the mid 18th century. It may have been lead miner's cottages.

It was built when Grassington became a terminus for horse drawn coaches to stop, change horses, lodge passengers and then continue up the dale.

From the early 1900's, tourism replaced mining as the chief economy of the village, and this demand led to the conversion of the northern section and the archway into residential accommodation shortly before the Second World War in 1938.
